Tree-Topped

IT'S YULE TIME AGAIN — and getting that tree home poses a problem, especially for compacts, and even littler cars. Mrs. Byron Brown of 133 Rivas Street in Parkmerced section solves it by putting tree through the roof. Getting it out again may not be so easy. (Post Photo by Koska.)

Fishing Craft Battered

Object Rips Hole in Hull Of Fishboat

A rough Pacific ocean has robbed Monterey fishing boat owner Rutherford Ross of much of his Christmas spirit.

It is a forlorn, dejected Ross who is attempting to salvage the major equipment and personal gear from his smashed 47-foot boat — before waves dash it to bits on the rocks near Shelter Cove in Pacifica.

Ross Monday told The Post — he was en route to Monterey, at about 2:30 a.m. Sunday after a journey to Sausalito; the craft struck a submerged object that ripped a hole, two-feet by ten-inches, in the hull.

It began to sink. When Ross suddenly became aware the boat was gradually going down, he attempted to at least make Half Moon Bay, away from the rocks of the Devil's Slide area, where his trouble started.

He soon gave up on that attempt, deciding instead to head back to the sandy Shelter Cove beach.

His radio, in the meantime, was damaged and Ross was unable to contact anyone for aid.

Ross grimly recalled he first tried to put a skiff overboard, and using it to get to shore. However, pounding waves of a rough early morning sea — about 2½ miles offshore — threw the small skiff back on board, he said.

Waves twice carried the boat — she's "Clara" — onto the Schumacher Rock, and off again. The craft lodged high-and-dry on the rocks the third time, Ross said. Ross was in the wheelhouse all this time.

He then climbed over the rocks, and headed for Shelter Cove.

Spotting lights in a nearby house at about 3 a.m. he called for assistance from the Coast Guard.

Ross, placing the loss of his craft at $20,000, recounted memories of the past summer, when he and his six youngsters — three girls, ages 9, 11, and 12; and three boys, ages 12, 14, and 17 — sailed together as family and crew.

He said he will take him a long time to get back out to sea on his own boat, but Ross vowed he would do it; even though "every dime" he had was in the craft and had been put into it for the past two years.

He was an unhappy man.

Yet, he was happy to be alive. He thinks he was lucky.

A DEJECTED Rutherford Ross, a Monterey father of six, looks grimly at his 47-foot fishing boat, "Clara," which is high-and-dry on the rocks near Shelter Cove in Pacifica. Vessel started to sink Sunday after hitting some object as Ross headed home from a Sausalito trip. (Photo by Donna Starr)

Polonsky Is City Attorney As Expected

When Daly City's whirling, smooth-riding political merry-go-round gently eased to a stop in city council chambers Monday night, Westmoor High's athletic director held the brass ring.

Without dissent, Anthony Giammona was named a councilman to succeed Albert Polonsky.

Polonsky, who resigned as mayor and councilman 3:59 p.m., Monday, via letter filed with the city clerk, was named city attorney, replacing Paul Hupf, who was sworn in Monday as the North County's third municipal judge.

The appointment of lawyer Polonsky came as no surprise. He had made no bones about his wanting the job. At the same time, there appeared not to be any opposition from his colleagues on the council; their time being more occupied on suitors for Polonsky's soon-to-be-vacated post.

The discussions have been going on since Gov. Edmund Brown named Hupf to the municipal court bench in South San Francisco last week. However, the swirling political situation came up formally this week with the official resignation of Hupf, read at 9:10 p.m., followed by acceptance soon after, nomination and acceptance of Polonsky to succeed Hupf, and nomination and approval of Giammoni to be Polonsky's successor.

The appointment feature on the night's program took about 13 minutes.

Hupf had been city attorney for nine years. He received a "temporary" gavel from Councilman Francis P. Pacelli, who said the council was "happy for you," but "sad you're leaving the city."

"I will find an empty spot,"

Vandalism

Stepped Up Safeguards

South San Francisco police are launching a major crackdown on vandalism this week, in the wake of what was described as a "rash" of malicious mischief incidents over the weekend.

A department spokesman said 50 incidents, most of which involved vandalism against automobiles, were reported during the two-day period.

The vandalism has been centered in the northeast section of the city, and appears to be the work of a small group of juveniles, possibly four or five boys, police said.

Scores of radio antennae were reported broken off automobiles; window glasses were broken, and a water pipe outside the Parkway School was broken off, all in the same area of the city.

Police said the water pipe was twisted in order to flood a room of the school building "in a deliberate act of sabotage."

The department has increased its surveilance of the neighborhood, and a spokesman said those responsible for the vandalism will be prosecuted "to the full extent of the law" when apprehended.

A malicious mischief conviction carries a maximum penalty of a $500 fine or six-month jail sentence.

D.C. Council Approves Street Improvements

A major street resurfacing project, for which bidding will be advertised next week, has been disclosed by Daly City Public Works Superintendent Arthur Reschke.

Obtaining council approval Monday night, Reschke estimated the project to place a coat of asphalt-concrete would cost about $100,000.

The city will let the project out to a single contracting firm that will resurface:

—Southgate, from Lake Merced to Westmoor;

—All of Eastmoor and Westmoor from Sullivan to Skyline Boulevard;

—South Mayfair from Lake Merced to Park Plaza; and,

—East Vista.

The total distance to be covered is about three miles, Reschke pointed out.

The large-scale program will allow two major arterials to be covered with a heavy overlay of asphalt. The average depth of asphalt, according to preliminary specifications being prepared by the public works designs staff, is to be 2½ inches, Reschke explained.

The works chief said a "lot of patching" on the streets to be recovered have been causing maintenance costs to increase.

With resurfacing, he said, the streets should last for another fifteen years without another coating.

Push Safety For Holidays

The Daly City council Monday night approved a resolution concerning this year's CRASH program in the north county.

The Community Rebellion to Achieve Safe Highways (CRASH) program is aimed at reducing the number of highway traffic accidents in the area during the holiday season.

In a letter to the council last week, municipal judge F. J. de Larios asked for the council's support of the program.

"We already have heard grim reminders of the increased risk of automobile collisions, with their accompanying maiming and killing of human beings and their wasteful toll of property damage, which the earlier hours of darkness, rainy weather and misdirected holiday enthusiasm bring on at this time of the year," judge De Larios wrote.

"We cannot make too great an effort in reducing this risk, and we must make some start," he said.

Judge De Larios said law enforcement agencies are doing everything they can to prevent these accidents, "but the public as a whole must increase its efforts to prevent highway slaughter and injury."

The judge suggested that each city council appoint a committee to assist in cutting down the toll taken by holiday season accidents.

Colma School Short Room

A temporary building to replace the Colma Intermediate School classroom gutted by fire December 3 will not be ready for use until after the Christmas holidays, Frank Greenwood, the district superintendent, said Monday night.

Greenwood said rain has delayed installation of drains for the portable classroom, which has already been moved to the site.

Meanwhile, the students who were using the classroom are now moving about from room to will enroll 20 students in an im- lods of other classes.

A second classroom was damaged in the fire, but is still in usable condition, the superintendent said.

Police are still investigating the fire, and will report their findings to the board when the investigation is concluded, Greenwood said. Three fires at the school during the past 18 months, at almost exact six-month intervals, have resulted in damages of nearly $100,000.

The board approved an agreement with the E. J. Farrell Construction Company to complete repairs to the damaged classrooms on a "time and material" basis without the letting of bids as part of an emergency program to return the facilities to use.

Cap Band Fund Drive

Capuchino High School Band is currently conducting an $8,000 fund drive to help the band attend the Rose Parade in Pasadena next month.

The band has been selected to play but the funds are necessary to assure the trip, said Ralph Bredenberg, band director.

Thus far the band has staged a car wash and has benefited from the Millbrae Lions Club paper drive.

Jeff District

School Chief Is Challenged

Mrs. Dorothy Adams, president of the Woodrow Wilson-John F. Kennedy School P-TA, Monday night presented a "rebuttal" to Jefferson Elementary School District Supt. Frank Greenwood's reply of two weeks ago to her earlier criticism of his administration.

In the latest episode in her running feud with the district administration, Mrs. Adams presented each of the district trustees a copy of Greenwood's reply appended with her "reply to the reply."

Among the points taken up again in the rebuttal are Greenwood's statement in reply to Mrs. Adams' charges of dissatisfaction on the part of the staff with the administration.

Greenwood stated two weeks ago that the district's teacher turnover "is one of the lowest in the state."

Mrs. Adams states in her latest communication to the board that there was a turnover of more than 24 per cent in the district's teachers this year, compared with a 9 per cent turnover last year.

One of Mrs. Adams' original complaints against the administration was based upon the contention that the superintendent was puposefully neglecting to pave a street into the John F. Kennedy School parking area.

She contended "the safety of the children is endangered due to the fact that vehicles must use the asphalt paving of the playground to reach the parking area . . . because the superintendent does not want to pave the street at this time."

Greenwood replied that the

Bruno Adds A Principal

Duncan H. Houston, vice principal at the Parkside School in San Bruno for the past four years, appointed principal of Edgemont and North Brae elementary schools at Monday night's meeting of the district trustees.

Houston has been with the school district for 12 years, and has served as boys' counselor at Parkside School while vice principal.

His appointment to the principal's post is effective January 3.

The new post was created this year in order to relieve principals of two other district schools from additional duties at Edgemont and North Brae, trustees said.

Both the schools are relatively small, and together they serve children in the kindergarden through fourth grade age group.

Other business at Monday's board meeting included the formal acceptance of a check for $1,150 from Mrs. Fred Milam, chairman of the P-TA coordinating committee for the San Bruno book fair.

The money represents net profits this year from the district's annual book fair, held November 14-19 at the War Memorial Building.

Mrs. Milam reported more than 7,000 books were sold during the fair this year, and more than 5,000 children attended.

Proceeds from the fair will be used to buy books for the district's school library program.

11 Cars in Chase, 2 Suspects Are Held

A stolen car containing two holdup suspects led 11 police and highway patrol vehicles on a 100-mile-an-hour chase along Bayshore Freeway Monday before the driver of the fleeing auto stopped when a highway patrolman leveled a shotgun at his head.

Twice during the torrid chase from San Mateo to San Bruno the suspect car tried to force a pursuing patrol car into the divider strip, officers reported.

Booked at city jail on charges of armed robbery, auto theft, five counts of assault with a deadly weapon, assault, battery, four counts of felonious assault on a police officer and resisting arrest were Carol Henry Brown, 41, unemployed teamster, of San Francisco, and Almond Joseph Jones, 19, unemployed laborer, of 569 Fifth Avenue, San Bruno.

Service Station

The chase started about 1 a.m., shortly after a gunman attempted to hold up the Regal service station at 2790 South El Camino Real in San Mateo, striking the attendant with the barrel of a pistol.

Station attendant John Richard Trapp, 24, of 739 Highland Avenue, San Maeo, told policeman Thomas F. Ryan that a man, whom he later identified as Brown, appeared at the station and requested change for a $1 bill. When he opened the cash register, Trap said, the man pointed a revolver at him and ordered him to hand over the money.

Trapp, not intimidated by the gun threat, pushed the cash register drawer closed, locked it and placed the keys in his pocket. The robber again ordered Trapp to hand over the cash, or he would shoot him.

The attendant, informed by the bandit that there was another man outside with a rifle, began backing out of the station office. He said the suspect then grabbed his collar and struck him twice with the gun, first on the arm and then on the back of the head.

Trapp said he twisted and managed to slip out of his jacket. He ran down El Camino Real and flagged down the driver of a Greyhound bus, who called police. The robber fled west on Twenty-eighth Avenue, without any money, but taking with him Trapp's jacket. The jacket later was found in the stolen car which the suspects were driving, police said.

No Headlights

The chase started after Policeman James Winslow and Dennis Mattocks spotted a car, with Jones at the wheel, driving slowly north on El Camino without the headlights on.

Winslow turned on the patrol car's red lights, but the vehicle didn't stop, turning east onto the Nineteenth Avenue Freeway where it picked up speed to 60 miles an hour proceeding towards Bayshore Freeway. A check of the suspect's vehicle's license number disclosed that it had been reported stolen in San Francisco.

As the chase reached Bayshore, the stolen car, a 1955 model sedan, sped up to 90 miles an hour, leaving patrol cars driven by Winslow and Officer Richard Bona falling behind.

However, a highway patrol car containing Officers Jan Benton and John Gruna took up the pursuit at Peninsula Avenue, pulling near the fleeing vehicle. Twice, Benton reported, the other car attempted to force the CHP vehicle into the divider fence.

Shotgun Does It

Finally, nearing the San Bruno exit, the CHP vehicle pulled alongside the other car and Gruna trained his shotgun at the other driver's head. Jones pulled over and stopped.

Winslow said that Brown was found lying on the floor in the back seat of the stolen car. A .32-calier revolver was found under the back seat. Also in the back seat was Trapp's missing jacket, the policeman reported.

Winslow said that Jones stated he had formerly worked at the service station where the robbery attempt was made and that Jones had proposed the holdup to Browns.

Great Job of Driving

Highway Patrol Sgt. Roy J. Edwards credited Benton with a "grat job of driving" in thwarting the effort to force the patrol car into the divider fence. In addition to the two San Mateo patrol cars, five highway patrol vehicles, two Burlingame cars and two Millbrae cars joined in the chase.

Several of the assault charges result from the effort to force the patrol car into the divider.

Trapp required treatment at Mills Memorial Hospital for a head cut suffered when he was struck by the pistol. He later identified Brown as the holdup suspect at the police station, Winslow reported.

Tony Giammona New Councilman

Hupf replied, "as far as Monday nights are concerned."

He said he was pleased "my position will keep me close to Daly City."

Acting Mayor Bernard Lycett said a resolution of commendation was in order.

He added that it was "hard" for him to accept the new judge's resignation "with regret," because he was pleased Hupf had obtained "something he has aspired to."

Councilman Edward J. Dennis put it most briefly:

"Good luck, Judge!"

"How can I say more?" he asked.

Giammona, according to Lycett, probably will take his oath of office in two weeks, at the next regular council session.

The new councilman was one of four rumored under consideration for the post.

Jim Grealish, a member of the personnel board, president of the Navy League, and a strong Republican; Thomas Noonan, a Jefferson Elementary School District trustee who lost out in the county assessor's contest this year; McRobert Stewart, a long-time member of the city's planning commission, and former personnel board member Dino Tonelli were foremost among the contenders.

Giammona's name came up for strong contention, publicly, Saturday, when Councilman Dennis disclosed he would back the Westmoor sports chief for the anticipated council vacancy.

Giammona in 1964 ran against Councilmen Pacelli and Polonsky. Since then he has handled successful election campaigns for Dennis and Supervisor-elect Robert St. Clair.

state finance department will not permit a school district to dedicate more than half the land necessary to install a street.

Mrs. Adams, in this week's letter, states that a representative of the finance department, Robert Vierra, has informed her that "in his opinion the district could pave anything it wants to with its own money."

The letter covers a number of other allegations and replies, and concludes with a request for an explanation of the administration's handling of the SCOPE antipoverty fund project.

Trustees said the matter would be placed on the board's agenda for the next regular meeting, which will be held January 3.

Greenwood stated he does not intend to furnish a further reply, as he feels his time "would be better spent in the business of educating the district's children."

Trustee Peter Galiano stated at the board meeting that he would like to "disassociate" himself from Greenwood's reply to Mrs. Adams.

Galiano, who was absent from the meeting when Greenwood read his reply, said, "I resent the superintendent's remarks very much. I expect the superintendent to live up to his professional position, and I don't believe that he has."

Galiano said he objected to Greenwood's choice of words, specifically his use of the phrases "murder the school district," and "destroy the school district," in referring to Mrs. Adams' intentions.

Sorority Will Help St. Nick

The Nu Sigma Chapter of Beta Sigmi Phi sorority will take part in this year's Operation Santa Claus in Daly City.

Operation Santa Claus is an annual project sponsored by the Daly City Fire Department and local civic organizations in which toys are donated to selected needy families throughout the area.

Service chairman for the Nu Sigma Chapter, Mrs. Dave Storman, announced this week members of the sorority would assist the fire department during this year's program.

A cash donation from the chapter was also expected to be made, Mrs. Storman said.

Yule Tree On the Move 'Suspicious'

The man running down the street with a bushy, eight-foot Christmas tree aroused the suspicions of Daly City Police Officer Donald Cubic Thursday and so he stopped him.

Nelson Marston, of 198 Nueve Street, San Francisco, explained to the officer he was just in a hurry to get home with the tree.

But the unidentified man who came puffing up the street shortly thereafter told Officer Cubic the apparent reason Marston was in a hurry to get home was because the tree had been stolen from the back of a parked pickup truck several blocks away.

The tree was handed back to its owner and Marston was taken to police headquarters.

It all happened, naturally, on Evergreen Avenue.

Wanted: Parents With Guts

WHAT THIS Peninsula needs, and badly needs, is parents with guts enough to face their own children and stamp out the wave of drug usage sweeping through our local high schools.

Perhaps the words from Dr. Leon Lessinger in a news story yesterday should have been printed in red for they are as dire a warning as we have ever printed. Commenting on the arrest of four young people from this area in a marijuana raid in San Francisco, Dr. Lessinger, superintendent of San Mateo Union High School District, said:

"It's going on all over the place. It's the 'in' thing for a certain group of young people who tend to be righter ones from relatively affluent homes. They're taking their cue from the colleges.

"Theyre playing Russian Roulette. Evidence is mounting that the drugs have an effect on the brain cells."

He went on to say that it has become easy to get a supply of marijuana or SLD. He estimated that a supply could be obtained on the Peninsula in a half hour or an hour and pointed out that the drugs cost money which children from affluent families apparently have.

"You have to pay money for it and these kids have the money."

Money is proverbially the root of all evil and the traffic in drugs is one of the worst, soul-destroying of all evils. That makes it plain enough for any parent to understand; if the source of money dries up the drug traffic will dry up.

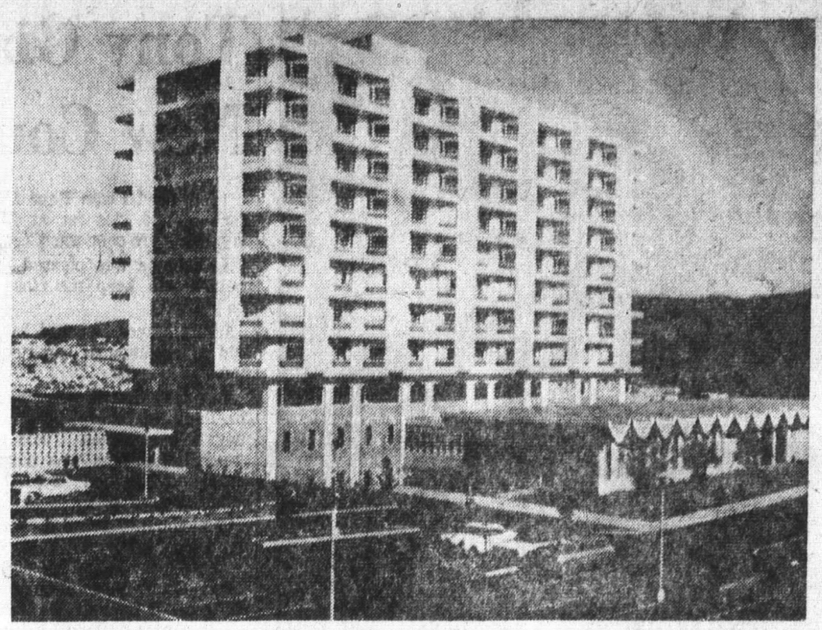
Dr. Lessinger says the community will have to band together to fight marijuana and LSD and get across to the young people the serious effects of drugs. He is right — but this is not enough.

The relationship between parents and children is intensely personal and every parent must find his own way to communicate with and discipline his own children. Community effort can be helpful, but it cannot get to the roots of an evil like this the way that resolute parents can get to it.

Unluckily, a great many blameless children may have to suffer for the misdeeds of a few who are guilty. But they should remember that the drug evil spreads like the plague and it takes stern measures to stamp it out.

This is a matter that cannot be left to the police and the schools; they are losing in the battle against the drug traffickers. More "good" children are infected every day.

Only the parents can win it. The way to do it is shut off the money. When there is no profit in it the drug traffickers will stop corrupting our Peninsula children.



MARY'S HELP HOSPITAL as it looks today—one-year-old on December 12. Festivities commemorating the milestone were planned at the huge medical facility with a special party held for infants born on December 12.

1st Anniversary For Mary's Help

The week of December 12 marks the first anniversary of the new Mary's Help Hospital.

The dedication and cooperation of the entire surrounding community in conjunction with the team spirit of the Medical-Dental Staff, the nursing staff and all the personnel of the hospital have enabled this institution to function with dignity in giving to their fellowmen the optimum in medical care and facilities, a hospital spokesman said today.

One year ago, over 10,000 people toured the new building and were in admiration of the modern facade and techniques of medicine which were to be offered to the populace in the area.

To accommodate the needs, within the first eight months of occupancy, the personnel and nursing roster has doubled.

Total admissions of incoming patients to date is 7,528 and 1,217 babies have been born since the opening day.

Sister Louise, administrator of Mary's Help Hospital, in reaffirming the objective of the hospital, expressed appreciation for the past and continuing support of the community at large, medical-dental staff, and all hospital personnel.

This one-year-old facility is the latest link in a world-wide chain of hospitals and other nonprofit institutions operated by the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, one of the largest and oldest religious orders.

Like its predecessor, which served the Mission District in San Francisco for over half a century, the new Mary's Help Hospital is open to persons of all races and religions irrespective of age or national origin.

In the fast-growing area this hospital serves, emergency facilities are available on a 24-hour, around-the-clock basis. In the first ten months of this year approximately 10,000 patients were attended in the emergency room.

Many festivities have been planned during the anniversary week. Beginning Saturday night the medical-dental staff had a first anniversary dinner which was attended by Daly City's Mayor Albert Polonsky.

A birthday party will be held for the infants born here one year ago on December 12, live music will be played in the employe dining room throughout the week, a special concelebrated mass of thanksgiving to honor the planting ceremony will be conducted to commemorate the event and the Daughters of Charity are having two dinners and a breakfast for all personnel, in expression of their appreciation.

The Men in Blue Don New Wash and Wears —Comfort Fashioned

The new mode in dress for members of Pacifica's elite gendarmerie this season is a charmingly simple navy-blue ensemble in one of the latest classic pants-suit.

Accented by bright dashes of color at the shoulder and sleeve line, the new line is expressed in a durable wash and wear fabric that is impervious to the wildest weather.

Fashioned for comfort as well as smartness, the ensemble may be worn for all informal occassions casually open at the throat; or for after-five galas, the same two-piece outfit is simply augmented with a cravat in matching navy-blue.

The whole outfit is topped off with a mod billed hat with a flat, rather than a domed crown, in coordinated color.

For accessories, a wide black belt at the natural waist-line in polished leather to which may be attached a button-flap pistol holster—adding a violent note. Balancing the pistol, on the opposite hip, is a large set of keys in varying metals which jingle gayly as they walk. A wooden night-stick is optional as the occassion demands.

The only accents worn with this "creation" is a large sheiled-shaped pin worn on the left chest in polished metals picking up the glitter of a large pin worn to accent the fore-peak of the hat.

A note of status is sometimes added to the sleeves of the shirt in the form of embroidered satin-stitched chevron designs, but is only worn by a select few and, under extremely limited restrictions.

All in all the new co-ordinated outfits will add a dash of togetherness to the men of the Pacifica law enforcement set, especially when displayed around the city hall by dapper models.

For dress, and strictly formal wear, the classic creation of yesteryear is retained, with its brilliant "diplomatic corps" stripe along the outer trousers giving flair to the boot.

AND THEN HE WROTE —Pacifica Police Sgt. Roy Shipley and Officer Rich Hillman model new wash and wear uniform, left, and "dress" uniform, right. For sophisticated and casual motorists, they present a custom-styled ticket in matching blue on white.

'Humanizing' Said A Favorite Term

Samuel Chandler

"Humanizing" seems to be one of the favorite catch words of the people in Washington. Among the leaders employing it is Robert C. Weaver, secretery of Housing and Urban Development in President Johnson's cabinet.

In an address that he delivered on September 13th in Washington, D.C. to a conference entitled "Our people and Their Cities," Weaver defined the term in relation to his department, at least.

"To humanize the city is to offer urban men the range of the urban options they came to the city to find." "This cannot be done," he continues, "if we equate simplicity with cheapness nor if we build without planning.

"IT CANNOT be done if we think of bricks and mortar before we think of man. And it cannot be done without the coordinated and co-operative efforts of private and public institutions alike and of private and public citizens alike."

Weaver believes that a humanized city balances social and economic needs with physical dimensions. To do this, he asks for what he calls revolutionary thinking.

"The problem of humanizing the city will be met only by meeting the human needs of its people, be they for beauty, or work, or food, or decent housing.

As a first step, the federal government has inaugurated the Demonstration Cities Program, which will focus all federal programs related to cities on selected major residential areas.

As a second step it proposes to bring in state and municipal aids in developing projects and administrative machinery to make the plans work.

"We also propose," Weaver states, "to grant substantial federal funds so that a firm economic base can be established for a demonstration program. And we will extend needed technical asistance."

A context of Weaver's speech may be read in the November issue of Western City, and in the September issue of Vital Speeches. While Weaver was outlining the plans for "humanizing" the cities, President Johnson was barnstorming Congress for support for the give us progress, give us movement and the American cities will be great again.

BUT the opposition has gathered. A Senate subcommittee on Executive Reorganization has leveled ssome blistering criticism. Senator Ribicoff said, "We've had all these programs, but we're reaping a whirlwind of violence. Senator Robert Kennedy called Mr. Weaver's programs inadequate. "You make it sound on paper as if the problem is disappearing — when actually something on the order of the Marshall Plan is needed."

Other Congressmen agree that much more needs to be done, but the federal government has formed an expensive habit by meeting each condition that it meets by pouring out more cash.

Several Congressmen have promised that the new Congress will scrutinize the whole Demonstration City Program before it grants $900 million dollars on a two-year basis. This amount the administration says will provide a subsidy of up to 80 per cent to overhaul selected slum areas in 60 to 70 cities.

In the words of Senator Harrison Williams, what President Johnson and Weaver want to fight with a program the call humanizing is a bonfire of human discontent.

A Funny Routine

Barbara Bladen

Comedian Bill Dana (Jose Jimenez) has a funny routine about an astronaut who is asked what he'll do when he goes up in a space ship to the moon.

"I'll cry a lot," he retorts.

Parker Brothers Games Company has come to his rescue with a new game that one man can play in a space craft against the computer.

The idea originated when executives of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, who are making the space fantasy "2001," requested a diversion to feature in the film. The object of the game, is to make the last move or checkmate as in chess. IBM computed the game.

Robert Barton, who has been president of the Salem, Mass., based company since 1933, explained during a recent visit to the Bay Area that "if you put two computers to playing chess, the first move always wins. People are not perfect but computers are."

NASA sent representatives to the company to advise the game experts who already had the beginnings of two space games. They wanted to keep away from the cliched image of round hats and space suits and put on a more realistic, intellectual, adult level.

"Children are so sophisticated these days, you have to invent games to match their intelligence and curiosity. We couldn't have sold a game like 'Risk' 20 years ago. But with the new math, our designers have had to think differently,' Barton commented.

THE PUBLIC MAY BE SEARCHING for newer and more complicated diversions but they always return to Monopoly, the game that swept the nation in 1934, the same year as "Gone With the Wind." Since then, the company has published 125 games. Monoply, is published in 12 languages but not in Russian.

"Several years ago, we sent 12 sets to a Russian exhibit on life in America, supermarkets, fads, designs, houses, etc. They were all stolen, so we sent another 12 sets and they were stolen. So we know it would be a popular game there, but the authorities are definitely antagonistic about its capitalistic objectives," he related.

They've now produced an executive set encased in a handsome wooden box with the houses and hotels and assorted pieces printed in France on plastic. It's popularity never seems to end.

☆ ☆ ☆

THE COMPANY PRESIDENT is a man of many interests. He is always on the lookout for game ideas and suggestions. A prominent ocean sailor, he skippered the winning "Sally III" in the gruelling 635-mile Newport-to-Bermuda race in 1956. A Harvard alumnus, he was graduated from the Harvard Law School and practiced in Baltimore. Commissioned a lieutenant commander in the U.S. Naval Reserve, he served in the Bureau of Aeronautics, and on the U.S.S. Ira Jeffrey.

Promoters Ask To Sell Names

Lorene Beasley

WHEN A CIVIC organization is asked to sponsor a show, an entertainment or take over the sales of a cookbook from which it will receive a percentage of the receipts, it really amounts to "selling" its name to a promoter.

Many church and club groups periodically get involved with cookbook publishing companies trying to raise money for worthwhile projects. The officers of groups sign a contract wherein the publishing company agrees to give the organization "free of charge" a number of cookbooks to sell for their club or pet charity. In turn, the members of the organization agree to furnish the receipes for the cookbook and allow the company to use their name in the solicitation of advertising from the business community.

The question arises then, how much is your organization's name worth? The type of a promoter who moves into a room full of telephones, known as a "boiler room" and starts high pressure selling to the local businessmen can injure the sponsor's name through unfavorable publicity. Investigations have disclosed percentages up to 90 per cent going to the professional promoter and only 10 per cent to the charity in whose name the solicitation was made.

IN ONE COOKBOOK promotion, the publishing company received the first $495 received from the sale of ads to defray the cost of printing the book. The group then received 30 per cent of all advertising monies over and above the $495.

A few members of a well-known benevolent club entered into an agreement with a professional solicitor to sell tickets to a dance at $2 each.

The solicitor was to furnish the music and singers for 80 per cent of the sales and the club was to receive 20 per cent of the sales made by the solicitor, plus 50 per cent of the tickets sold by the members and 25 per cent of the tickets sold at the door.

The tickets did not have numbers on them, so an accounting would have been almost impossible. Also, not all members of the club were aware of the agreement. The solicitor moved in and started his boiler room operation calling businessmen for a solicitation in the name of the club for a "basket for the needy" a $12.50 a basket and dance tickets, $2.

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU began to receive calls concerning this solicitation and in attempting to confirm, learned that no member of the club had any knowledge of the "basket deal."

A representative group of the club called on the solicitor who closed up his operation and left town immediately.

Many business firms are plagued by advertising solicitations every day of the year. One firm said that they evaluated 112 requests for charity a month.

If in doubt concerning your charitable contribution, please phone the Better Business Bureau.

What a Smashing Event

The fully enclosed Fairmont Shopping Center received an unintentional, but slight, draft Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Fowler had gone there shopping, Fowler trailing his spouse as they went from the car to the store building.

Fowler said his wife ahead of him, but already inside the carpeted, all-in-one complex. Thinking mistakenly that he was joining her via an open doorway, Fowler suffered only small cuts on his hands as he smashingly walked through the huge plateglass window on the southwest corner of the store, authorities said.

Twin Bruno Centers Win An Approval

San Bruno planning commissioners have recommended approval of plans which, if developed, would result in two gigantic shopping centers almost directly across the street from each other.

The commission, after turning down a request for "C-1" (commercial) zoning of a 22-acre addition to the Consolidated Lands property on the west side of El Camino Real, recommended the firm's entire 92.6-acre site be zoned C-C (controlled commercial).

At the same meeting, the commission recommended approval of a request from the Tavares Company for rezoning the section of the Tanforan site, on the east side of El Camino Real, between Sneath Lane and the city limits from P-D (planned development) to "C-C."

The "C-C" zoning requires that a use permit be obtained for each new business on a site, and gives the planning commission more control over developmen than "C-1" zoning, which allows unlimited commercial development.

Consolidated Lands Corp. recently acquired 22.6-acre strip of Navy lands bordering El Camino Real through the California Highway Department. The firm has had the "C-1" status on the original 70-acre site for about eight years.

A company spokesman said the additional 22-6 acres were "what we have been waiting for," and indicated the firm will now proceed with plans for the development.

However, there are still obstacles which will delay development of the Consolidated Lands project.

The agreement under which the additional acreage was acquired contains a stipulation that the firm must allow the Navy to occupy buildings on the property for another two years.

Also, the company will be unable to proceed with development until the new Route 186 freeway is completed.

Another delaying factor is the city's planned widening project on El Camino Real.

The planning commission recommended approval of a development period of five years "to begin upon completion of Route 186."

This arrangement projects the possible completion date for the Consolidated Lands development to 1973 or 1974.

The Tanforan site has been partially developed, with streets and other improvements completed, but to date no commercial building has materialized in the San Bruno section.

In South San Francisco, a small portion of the 120-acre site was "split off" the main portion for construction of a White Front store and a service station.

A planned apartment complex was scrapped because of the "tight money" situation.

The original "P-D" zoning for the site will expire at the end of this month, and unless an extension is granted the entire area will revert to "A-R" (administrative - research.)

HERE ARE SOLUTIONS TO BEDROOM DECORATING PROBLEMS

One of the most difficult rooms to decorate effectively is the bedroom.

But there are a variety of simple decorating devices that can be used to fit your furniture into your bedroom with maximum usefulness and eye appeal. The National Association of Bedding Manufacturers has prepared some ideas which we're happy to pass along to you.

For instance, you can blend your bed beautifully into the background of the room. This could mean a patterned spread matched to wallpaper or fabric on the headboard wall; or use a solid spread in a shade just a bit lighter than the carpet. Exciting effects, too, can be created by applying the same pattern or stripe to spread, walls, and draperies.

Another idea to get a decorator effect in your bedroom is to eliminate the headboard of the bed. Distinctive, imaginative substitutes can be found. Over-size bolster pillows; a low-hung grouping of colorful framed pictures; a dramatic panel of wallpaper — any of these might be used.

As far as the placement of the bed goes, we'll discuss that — and some other bedroom ideas — in our next column. Watch for it next week.

Our decorators, here at Sterling Furniture in Westlake Shopping Center are at your service no matter what your decorating problem may be. We are open Wednesday and Friday evenings 'til 9 p.m. for your shopping convenience or call PL 6-7500.

Westmoor Hi Loses First Two Games

Westmoor High School's netters were scheduled to take on Riordan Tuesday afternoon, after dropping their first two games of the season last week. The Rams will meet Mission High there on Friday.

Last Friday, Coach Tony Giammona's youthful five fell to Mills High School, 53-44. Mills led by several points throughout the game.

High scorer for Westmoor was Gary Soles, with 11 points. Last Tuesday the Rams were souldly trounced by powerful Polytechnic, 62-35. That game, too, was a very decisive defeat, with Westmoor trailing throughout.

Grady Proctor was high scorer for the Westmoor team, with only eight points.

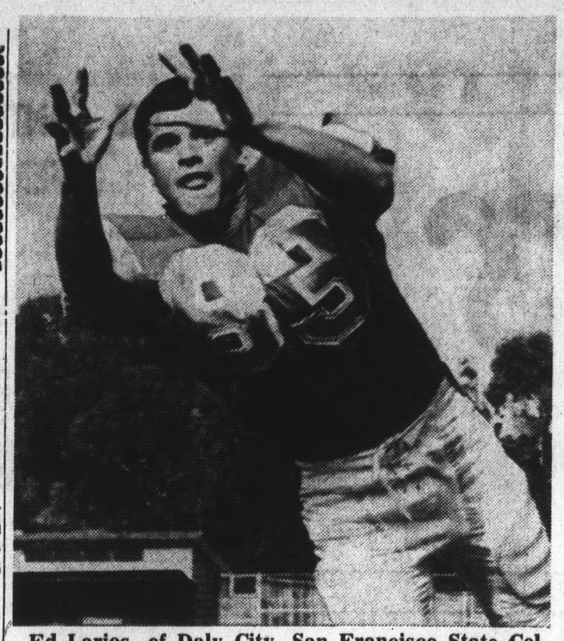
2 D.C. Players Are All-League

Two Daly City players for the Riordan High School football team have been named to the All-Catholic League team, it was learned this week.

Included on the team are Bob Verducci, a 155-pound senior end, and Mike Madigan, another senior end. Verducci was named to the defensive team and Madigan to the offensive team.

Verducci was also included on the Northern California Defensive Honor Roll two weeks during the season.

NEW YORK — Wayne Molis, a rookie with the New York Knickerbockers, holds the single game scoring records at two schools, Lewis College and Chicago Teacher's College. Ironically, he set each record against the other team, scoring 41 points for Chicago against Lewis and 38 for Lewis against Chicago.



Ed Larios, of Daly City, San Francisco State College tight end, has been named to the first team of the All-Far Western Conference. A six-foot, 200-pound junior, Larios caught 35 passes for 503 yards and six touchdowns. Attending Jefferson High, he was selected on the North Peninsula League's first squad, as an offensive end in 1963. Larios was captain of State's freshman team in 1964, and has won his letter the past two seasons on the varsity. In addition to football, Larios was a standout at Jeff in wrestling, basketball and track.

What's a nice-looking car like you doing in a Volkswagen ad?

Nobody made a mistake.

That shapely car is the new Volkswagen Fastback.

It's in this VW ad because it's a VW.

(We haven't made very many yet, so you probably haven't even seen one yet. That's why we're running this ad in the first place.)

The Fastback isn't a VW in name only; it's a Volkswagen through and through.

The engine is air-cooled so it has no use for water or antifreeze. And it's in the back to make the going easy when the weather isn't.

The Fastback is airtight, like all Volkswagens, because it's made in the same plant by the same people.

Naturally, there are differences, too.

The Fastback engine is a little more powerful (the car will cruise at better than 80). It holds 5 nicely. It has disc brakes in front. The upholstery is (for us) kind of jazzy. And it (the Fastback) costs $2243*

If you've steered clear of a Volkswagen because it wasn't big enough or good-looking enough or expensive enough, you may be forced into thinking it all through again.

Sorry.

Rowing Holiday

Le Pacini

Most school teachers spend their Christmas vacation doing nothing more strenuous than, say, stringing outdoor lights.

But not two new young Terra Nova faculty members — Mike Cassity, 26, and John Bentley, 28. Beginning Friday — directly after their last English and music classes, respectively — they'll spend approximately 12 days rowing from Half Moon Bay to Los Angeles in a 17-foot rubberized canvas kayak. Which is one helluva field trip.

To appreciate the risk in such a venture, one need only to consult the most recent standings in the National Safety Council Holiday Hazard Table: 1) Christmas Shopping at Cost Plus; 2) Driving through Berkeley with a Reagan bumper sticker; 3) Rowing from Half Moon Bay to Los Angeles in a 17-foot rubberized canvas kayak; 4) Visiting Los Angeles under any conditions.

Bentley and Cassity face the ordeal with the icy coolness of men about to get away from their wives for two weeks.

Cassity, former paratrooper, Stars and Stripes reporter, and currently spokesman for the dynamic duo, has an excellent rationalization for the trip. "We're taking the trip," he says, "to show the feasibility of a small expense family sporting adventure along our coast."

AT LEAST that's what Cassity and Bentley told their wives, with whom they'll be spending a late Christmas in Los Angeles.

We can imagine the domestic scene which could develop as the result of the lusty pioneering of Bentley and Cassity. There's a typical American family — man, wife, and one-and-half-children—poised on the water's edge, and the man is saying, "All right kids, if you want a kayak picnic in the Pacific Ocean, you help mommy row — and you, short, you can bail — while daddy watches the naked ladies on Pigeon Point."

Though conceived rather frivolously over one lunch period, the trip is actually not now taken as lightly by the participants as we depict it. It will be, after all, the first time in the history of western civilization that any human beings have ever rowed a 17-foot rubberized canvas kayak from Half Moon Bay to Los Angeles, and the awesome responsibility of the venture has humbled the two educators.

Bentley, an ex-soldier, is an avid outdoorsman and has rowed his kayak all over the United States, including the Lima Mar Shopping Center during the last squall. In preparation, they've made several long weekend trips, and emphasize that they'll stick close to shore and in case of bad weather take alternate routes whenever possible. They are also packing in about 200 pounds of equipment, including extra clothes, food, sleeping bags, camping equipment and cameras.

And, of course, the Coast Guard has been notified. "Even they're enthused about it," says Cassity, "sea searches break the monotony."

AS YOU may have noted from the equipment list, it won't all be travail. There will be hunting and fishing, and, come dark, singing and sipping and story telling 'round a friendly shore-side campfire.

If the National Safety Council knew that, they'd drop rowing from Half Moon Bay to Los in a 17-foot rubberized kayak to sixth, behind Not Spending Christmas With Your WIfe.

YOU MAY take the following story for what it's worth, since it was offered to us as second hand rumor. But it is interesting to contemplate. It's about how South City's former great running back Doug Jones, now a freshman at UCLA, caused the season-long incapacity of Bruin All-American linebacker Damon Bame.

It seems that in a scrimmage between the frosh and the varsity just prior to the opening game, Jones was giving the varsity fits, running through and around their line with utter disdain. Bame, goes the story, got his competitive pride up and told Jones in no uncertain terms that if he tried his spot again he'd cut him in half.

On Jones' next carry he slid directly into Bame's territory, and as the wild-eyed bruiser girded himself for the undressing, Jones threw him a hip, spun out, went for a touchdown, and left the faked Bame writhing on the ground with a twisted knee which was to retire him for the year.

SPEAKING of South City runners, the Warriors' Russ Cottrell was the only NPL player to finish in the top 10 in any statistical category among Northern California prep football players. He was sixth in rushing, with statistics comparable to the ones Jones himself hung up in his junior year. With another year to go, Cottrell may assure South City of at least one more football title.

☆ ☆ ☆

COUPLE of weeks ago we said we knew why USC was chosen over UCLA for the Rose Bowl — because the Pac-8 voters have never been logical. But after some rumination, we take that back. It was perfectly logical — Pac-8 logic, that is. They were merely making it up to Johnny McKay for 1964, when his Trojans SHOULD have gone to the bowl.

☆ ☆ ☆

SUDDEN THOUGHTS: Remember when Dave Parks first came to the 49er's they couldn't decide on whether to use him as an offensive end or defensive back? Somebody, luckily, made the right decision.

In retiring prematurely, Sandy Koufax may have set the stage for a record he couldn't have set without the early retirement — youngest player in the Hall of Fame.

ONE OF of the more interesting analyses we've read recently on Negro superiority in the NBA came from Elgin Baylor. Baylor says that it isn't that Negroes are better basketball players, but that because white players have so many more doors open to them (big job offers, marrying into money, etc.) which cause them either not to go pro or to retire young, that the field is left to the Negro.

In other words, if the colored player can't make it in basketball, he just isn't going to make it.

OTHER BASKETBALL NOTES: Do you realize that the Warriors are one of the only three NBA teams who are playing above .500 ball? The others, of course, are Philadelpia and Boston, and that's pretty heady company.

SSF, Woodside Share All-Star Grid Honors

DeJong Is Coach Of Year

By RON REID
Post Sports Writer

Woodside and South San Francisco High Schools, at opposite ends of the Peninsula geographically but sharing an equality of excellence, dominated the Post and Times 1966 All-County Football Team announced today.

Selected by The Post and Times staff of sports writers and correspondents, the 24-man All-Ccounty team includes five players each off the unbeaten, respective champions of the North and South Peninsula Athletic Leagues.

Woodside and South San Francisco also split additional honors when the Wildcats' star quarterback, Don Bunce, was selected as All-County Player of the Year and South San Francisco's Ray DeJong was picked for Coach of the Year honors.

DeJong, whose Warriors have now struggled through 28 consecutive games without defeat, should also have cause for joy in the fact that three of his All-County gridders will be returning next season.

They are Russ Cottrell, the North League's leading rusher who racked up more than 1,000 yards; 240-pound tackle Marty McDonough, and John Costalupes, a 237-pound interior lineman named to the star squad's defensive unit.

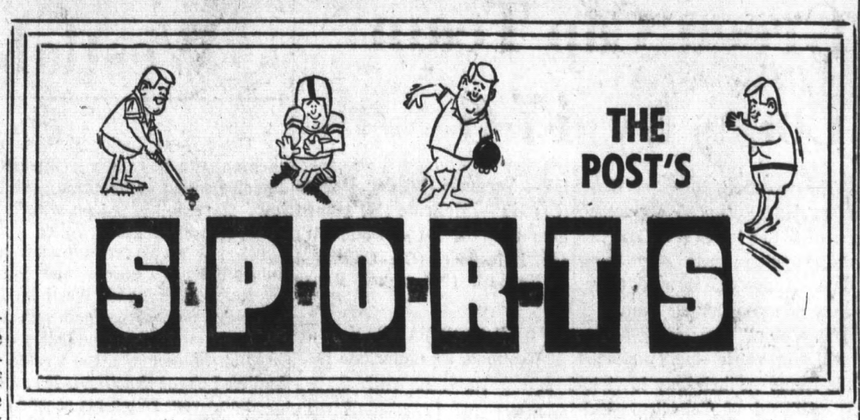
Along with the trio of underclassmen, South S.F. placed defensive back Larry Alsterlind on the squad with defensive end Mike Lloyd, the sole repeater from The Times' team of last season.

Headed by Bunce, the SPAL player of the year who accumulated more than 2,000 yards total offense for the champion Wildcats, Woodside landed four places on the offensive team and one on defense.

Other Wildcats earning the highest accolade of the prep season were Bunce's backfield team mate, Ben Welch, who also had more than 1,000 yards rushing; tackle Eric Boutacoff, center Wim Maulding and Greg Grammater, a 6-4, 195-pound defensive end.

Joining Welch, Cottrell and Bunce in the All-County backfield were Doug McKay of Mills, another strong-legged lad who romped for more than a 1,000 yards and Serra's Jim Garban, who nearly matched that total with 980. Five backs were named to the team since The Times' selection committee felt each merited the honor and that to omit anyone of them would be an injustice.

Similarly, Jim Kauffman of Capuchino was named to the dream team as an end, based on his sensational performance all season long as a receiver.



Terra Nova Wins Delayed Opener

Coach Don Delbon's Terra Nova varisty netters opened the season on a happy note Friday afternoon with a 66-61 win over Crestmoor.

Terra Nova took an early but narrow lead in the game, played on the winners' home court, and led Crestmoor by a 33-30 score at halftime.

The Tigers scored 12 points in the third quarter, while holding Crestmoor to six, and the losers made a late rally in the final period, racking up 25 points to Terra Nova's 21.

Coach Delbon was happy with his team's debut, and lauded the rebounding of Bob Wimmer, Jim Bresnahan, Mike Ward and Becksted as the chief factor in the victory.

Terra Nova had a rebound tally of 73, compared to Crestmoor's 23.

High scorers for the winners were Mike Kenny, 22, and Jim Bresnahan with 21.

Collman led the Crestmoor scoring with 31 points. Grant scored 14 for the losers.

Cap Has Heavy Cage Sched

Capuchino High is bucking a heavy basketball schedule this week, with two games scheduled at home and one away.

The Mustangs were to play Balboa at home Tuesday afternoon, followed by a clash with Mission High on the home court Thursday and a trip to Serra High School Friday.

Cap came from behind to beat Menlo-Atherton in a 63-61 thriller on the home court Friday. The Mustangs trailed by several points for most of the game, and didn't move ahead until the final stanza, when they outscored the visitors 20-11.

Jim Kauffman led the Mustang scoring effort with 13 points, and Roger Carmine scored 12.

Last Tuesday, Capuchino fell to Polytechnic of San Francisco, 77-71. Carmine and Kauffman led the scoring for the Mustangs in that game also, with 15 and 12, respectively.

By GINNY FEATHERSTONE

As of now, the current leaders in the Pacifica Youth Benefit Tournament have not changed. Sandy Howard still leads with a 685, Maurice Canas 682 and Ray Fisher 674. The last date to bowl is December 18th. The Examiner Christmas Singles will continue until Jaunary 8 when the Grand Finals will be rolled. You may qualify in as many establishments as you wish. For our Juniors and Bantams, the Holiday Singles and Doubles Tournament started December 10 and will run through January 8. The cost is $2. In our Saturday Pee Wee League, coach Ric needs some bowlers, ages three to six and-a-half. We have special six-pound balls for them, so if you have a little one bring him or her down. Green Cap Team Loses by 47-6

The wrestling Rams of Westmoor High trounced Capuchino High, 47 to 6 last week. Capuchino grapplers, with only three days of practice behind them, were no match for the Rams.

Wright, probably Capuchino's best wrestler, won their only other match against a determined Paul Sanquinetti. Bob Morris started a Westmoor winning streak that lasted the rest of the meet.

Girl Hurt In Playground Fall Off Ship

A 6-year-old Daly City child was hospitalized Thursday afternoon for injuries received when she fell from a wooden ship in the Westmoor playground.

Michele Gouldson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gouldson, 95 Monterey Drive, was treated for a severe head cut and admitted for observation at Mary's Help Hosital.

Police said the child fell about 12 feet from the "crow's nest" of the replica pirate ship.

Mrs. Gouldson said her daughter went to the playground with some older children. "Otherwise, I would never have let her play on the ship," she said. "It is very dangerous for small children."

The child is in good condition today.

This group will provide the leadership in collecting usable clothing and bedding for the victims of the Italian catastrophy.

All citizens are being asked to donate whatever items that are not usable to them to give to this committee for the shipment to Italy.

Kettle Drive In Pacifica By Salvation Army

The Pacifica Salvation Army Service Unit is to conduct its annual Kettle Drive.

Eldred Lokker, chairman of the local service unit, said the sound of ringing bells and the sight of the familiar kettle are traditional signs that local residents are volunteering to the local Salvation Army program.

All funds collected in the Kettle Drive are used to help Pacifica families in time of need, with no monies being used for administrative purposes.

The Kettle Drive will be on the next two Friday afternoons, at both the Linda Mar and Pacifica Shopping Centers.

Annual Jeff Christmas Concert Attracts Crowd

Rain failed to keep a sizable crowd of parents and friends from the annual Christmas concert at Jefferson High School last Friday night, in the Cafeteria Building. The a Cappella and Chamber Choir theme was the Childhood of Christ, by Johann Christoph Bach, a cantata for soloists and mixed chorus.

The director was Gilbert Crane.

They also sang six carols: While Shepherds Watched, By-By-Baby, Lullay, What—Is This Perfume So Appealing? Frm France, Come, My Dear Old Lady, which is Spanish, And the Trees Do Moan, from the White Mountains of the United States, and Fum! Fum Fum!

The instrumentalists included Kim Buffo and Alan Harvey on flute, Chris Reutinger on violin, Dennie Lufkin on viola, Judith Tugendreich (wife of a history teacher at Jefferson) on cello, Erika-Marie Matthes on organ and piano, and Douglas Monyhun and David Monares, both students at Jeff, on percussion.

The Chamber Choir, which shared the program consists of members of the a cappella choir. Their first number was Ave Maria, by Tomas di Victoria.

Angelus ad pastoris ait, taken from the Gospel of Luke and written by Hans Leo Hassler, and Five Dutch Carols were other selections, as were Bring Your Pipe and Bring Your Drum, by Robert B. Reed, the Randall Thompson version of Nowell, Christmas Is Coming, arranged by the Krones, and Deck the Hut With Coconut (tropic island grow no holly), a South Seas version of Deck the Halls.

Bridesmaids were Mary ann Caron Diane Raines, and Dorothy Werner, cousins of the bride; and Sandy Venturi, sister of the bridegroom, niece of the bridegroom, and a junior bridesmaid.

Among the gests were Cristina Moriconi of Sacramento and Cristine Biale of Napa, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Erminia Lombardi of South San Francisco, great-aunt of the bride.

Two particularly delightful floral desk calendars for 1967 have just been received from Hearthside Press, Inc. in time for the rash of Christmas parties. One devoted to roses and the other a mixture of traditional and modern arrangements.

The 1967 Rose Calendar, a lovely gift for any home owner, flower arranger or a rosarian, shows the newest roses (the All America Winners for 1967).

Book on West's Trees Published

Have you ever been embarrassed because you couldn't tell your visiting friends the names of the trees where you live? Or have you wished that some knowing person was with you to give you the name of an interesting tree you found on a drive?

Matilda Rogers and Wynn Hammer have just had a handbook published, "Trees of the West Identified at a glance", that will help you to know the trees you see. This small paperback book is published by The Ward Ritchie Press and sells for $1.95. It is also available in a hardcover edition for $3.95.

Matilda Rogers describes the trees in concise, non-technical words that makes it easy for anyone to recognize and name some forty or more of the commonly seen trees used for shade and ornamentals. She uses only a few botanical names, we wish that she had followed each of her common names with the botanical name as our state laws require that California nurserymen label each tree with ist correct botanical name, and too often the same tree is known in different localities under a different name.

Wynn Hammer's photographs stress the particular features of each tree which most help to distinguish it. Close-ups show flower, leaf, needle, fruit or bark in such a way that comparison is a very simple matter.

Kept in the glove compartment of the family car this book will add excitement to drives about town or trips through the west for Matilda Rogers not only helps you to know the trees but makes you acquainted with the oldest, the tallest, and most massive trees of the world and for good measure she has included a list of state trees.

Purse-Size Horticulture Dictionary

Garden Club of Ohio has compiled a small 124 page, purse size Horticulture Dictionary called "Hortulana." This is a little reference guide which contains a glossary of plant names, both common and botanical, with pronunciations and brief descriptions; botanical terms with definitions; a list of poisonous plants and a wild flower conservation list.

While this little booklet was prepared primarily for garden clubbers it is so well done that it would be most servicable to any gardener wishing to pronounce the plant names correctly and know some of the most pertinent facts about the popular plants used as garden ornamentals.

"Hortulana" is available at $1 each for single copies or 75 cents in quantities of 10 or more from Mrs. Howard Oberlin, Hortulana Chairman, 5300 Island Drive, Canton, Ohio 44718.

Warning On Bayfill Plan

A letter has been mailed to Bernard Lycett, chairman of the Bayfront Planning Committee from Arthur Maguire, of the Paradise Valley Group of South San Francisco, warning on approving the Pacific Air Commerce Center plan.

The letter said: in part:

"It is almost certain that there will be a stepping up of the so-called "Public Realtions" campaign of Pacific Air Commerce Center in an attempt to convince the public that their plan for cutting down San Bruno Mountain for Bay fill is an economic necessity.

We urge all concerned citizens of the San Francisco Bay Area, and particularly the citizens and officials of San Mateo County and its cities, to separate the wheat from the chaff, in all such attempts. This campaign will attempt to stampede officials and citizens of San Mateo County into pushing the "panic button" and agreeing to accept the PACC plan because of the threat of vast economic loss through curtailment of airport operations.

New Class Studying The Earth

Westmoor High School has a new course, earth science curriculum project, an experimental approach to a study of the earth.

To make the earth science course more interesting and meaningful for students in Daly City, the textbook is designed for 30 to 35 experiments—and at least five field trips.

The students have calculated the movement of the earth, the circumference of the earth, and the diameter of the sun with instruments on the school lawn.

The students have visited Morrison Planetarium twice this year. In October they viewed "The Earth in Space," which discussed the earth as an astronomical body and its place in the solar system; the show included physical characteristics, the atmosphere, and important motions of the earth.

"The Solar System" was the subject of another show that provided an overall look at the important members of the solar system, the nine planets and their moons, motions of the planets, asteroids, meteors, and comets.

Thornton, Montara, and Moss beaches have been sites of geology field trips. The classes studied types of rocks and rock formations in those areas.

As illustrated by the field trips and experiments, earth science is a course which involves many sciences such as oceanography, geology, seismology, meterology, and astronomy, while carefully holding the focus point on the earth.

Carrold Fredricks, earth science teacher, tries to take his classes on as many field trips and outdoors as much as possible because, he says, "The students are more interested when they can see, as well as hear about the things they are studying."

"People living on earth," he added, "should learn as much as possible about their environment and the planet which supports their existence."

The course is in the line of the new biological science curriculum and chemistry study courses.

Science is changing so much that these new concentrated and updated courses are introduced to keep up with the changes, a department spokesman pointed out.

Sugar 'n Spice

Cookie Time!

Nell Norton

Santa is coming, and you want to have some cookies baked so the children can leave them by the fireplace for him, don't you? Now is the time to get going on your baking, dearies. Actually anytime is a good time to bake cookies, but Christmas is the best time.

Cookie baking is the best kind of baking. At least it is the most fun. And for fun, you can't beat baking cut-out cookies. Let the children help too. This recipe for Holiday Sugar cookies comes from Mrs. Anita Cecena, who lives at 124 Glenwood Avenue in Daly City. Anita bakes these cookies frequently during the year, suiting the cutters to the occasions. And I can speak from happy experience when I say that they are delicious.

HOLIDAY COOKIES

1 cups sifted confectioners sugar
1 cup margarine
1 egg
1 teas. vanilla
½ teas. almond flavoring
2½ cups flour
1 teas. soda
1 teas. cream of tarter

Cream sugar and margarine together. Add egg and flavorings. Sift flour, soda and cream of tarter together and add to creamed mixture. Refrigerate 2 to 3 hours. Heat oven to 375 degrees. Using half of dough at a time, roll out to 3-16th thickness. Cut into Christmas shapes, trees, stockings, Santa's etc. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Bake 7 to 8 minutes or until delicately browned. Cool and frost.

EASY CREAMY DECORATING ICING

1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
¼ teas. salt
½ teas. vanilla
Water

Blend sugar, salt and vanilla with enough water to make icing easy to squeeze through decorating tube. Tint portions with food coloring.

☆ ☆ ☆

Gumdrop bars are easy to make and add color and good taste to your baking. They will please the children especially, for what could be nicer than candy and cookies in the same bite

GUMDROP COOKIES

2 cups sifted flour
¼ teas. salt
1 teas. cinnamon
3 eggs (beaten)
2 cups brown sugar
¼ cup evaporated milk
½ cup evaporated milk
½ cup soft, small gumdrops, cut in half. (No licorice)
½ cup nuts, chopped

Sift flour, salt and cinnamon together. Blend the eggs, sugar, and evaporated milk and beat well. Add the sifted dry ingredients and mix well. Fold in the gumdrops and nuts and pour into greased, 8x9-inch pan. Bake in 325-degree oven 35 minutes.

These Almond Crescents are great favorites in my family and I think when you've tried them you will find yourself making them again and again. They taste delicious and look very pretty with their coating of powdered sugar.

ALMOND CRESCENTS

½ lb. butter or margarine
1 cup powdered sugar
2 egg yolks
1 cup chopped almonds
1 teas. vanilla
3 cups flour

Cream butter, add sugar and cream again. Beat eggs and add to mixture. Blend well. Add chopped nuts and vanilla. Lastly work in the flour. I say to work in the flour because this is a rather dry dough and requires a bit of mixing and blending.

Divide dough and roll into rolls about one-and a half inches around and 12 inches long. Slice into three-quarter pieces and shape into crescents. Bake in 375-degree oven about 10 minutes. Watch, because you don't want the cookies to get brown. Remove from oven and roll in powdered sugar while still hot.

☆ ☆ ☆

We have to have some kind of drop cookie. And what better kind than a chocolate drop cookie?

CHOCOLATE CRACKLES

unsweetened chocolate
2 cups sugar
2 teas. vanilla
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup salad oil
4 eggs unbeaten
2 cups flour
½ teas. salt
½ cup powdered sugar

Melt chocolate in top of a double boiler. Remove from water and blend in oil and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add vanillao.

Sift flour and salt together and add to chocolate mixture. Add nuts and mix thoroughly. Chill soft dough for several hours or overnight.

Shape into small balls and roll in powdered sugar. Baker on greased cookie sheet at 350-degrees for 10 to 12 minutes.

The Pine Smell

Louanne Heath

THE SMELL OF PINE, old friends breaking bread together, gifts and laughter, children, dressed in doll-like costumes, the sound of carols and Santa Claus, who could ask for anything more traditional or more delightful during this holiday season?

The Westlake Senior Citizens are planning their annual Christmas party and, as is usual with this particularly fine organization, they have succeeded in including all the ingredients necessary to insure that Christmas feeling will wash over everyone who manages to attend.

Willard Wagner, club treasurer, reports that Mrs. Marguerite Murphy is the general chairman of the party and assisting her are Mrs. Edith Barker, decorations chariman; Mrs. Hazel Clarey, Mrs. Alice Jackson, Mrs. Vera Sarson and Mrs. Minnie Bjoring will be the hostesses. Mrs. Frances Sawyer, Mrs. Alice Beal and Claude Putnam are the members of the general program committee.

Two special treats have been scheduled for the party next Wednesday morning, Wagner reports. The Small Fry, a group of tiny acrobatic dance students (trained by Mrs. Lorna Fordyce,) who recently made their debut on the Ted Mack Television show, will perform. The second special is the singing of carols, accompanied by the showing of special song slides, an inovation this year, according to Wagner.

THREE CHEERS for Westmoor's Mike Hinton!

Sophomore drummer Mike, who was one of three Westmoor students auditioning for the Robin Hood Band and a chance to march in the Rose Parade in Pasadena, has been notified that he has been accepted.

According to Howard Loeffler, band instructor at the high school, Mike was selected from hundreds of young musicians all across the United States who submitted taped auditions to the judges in Los Angeles.

Young Hinton, who has a record as an outstanding all around student, was first runner-up in the state music championships this past summer and will be one of a select group of music students who will travel to Nevada next summer to represent Westmoor in the music competitions held at the University of Nevada, Loeffler said.

MRS. MAY JOHNSON of San Carlos was the pleased recipient of the Tau Gamma Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, doll house awarded one recent Saturday to the lucky donor to the sorority's philanthropic fund.

According to Mrs. Betty Wilson, publicity chairman for the sorority, the drawing was held at 4 p.m. with young Doug Laughlin of Pacifica pulling the winning stub from the fish bowl.

Sorority sisters will be gathering in the Wilson home on Tuesday eveing to enjoy a holiday party complete with gift exchange and revealing of the names of the 1966 secret sisters. In addition to the party atmosphere which will prevail in the Wilson home for the occasion, the meeting will be enriched with the conduct of three sets of rituals. Mrs. Deniece Frary, Mrs. Barbara Hackley and Mrs. Vonnie Berg will take part in the ritual of jewels; Mrs. Irene McShea and Mrs. Joann Percer will observe the ritual of pledge and Mrs. Sandi Rose and Mrs. Lani Johnson will take part in the transfer ritual. Honored guest for the evening will be Mrs. Dorothy Blasquez, president of Beta Sigma Phi City Council.

THE CHURCH OF THE Good Shepherd's Altar-Rosary Sodality holds its Christmas Party tonight at 8 p.m. in the parish hall. Gifts of canned goods or toys will be collected for the needy of the community. According to Mrs. Carmen Prowse, publicity chairman, punch, hors d'oeuvres and various finger foods will be served in the gala and imaginative decorated hall.

The sodality's monthly communion date is Sunday at 8:30 a.m. with coffee and Danish pastry to be served afterward in the parish hall, Mrs. Prowse said.

IT HAS BEEN a busy holiday season at the Brotherhood Way Jewish Community Center

This past Sunday the center was the site of a Family Hanukah party complete with entertainment by the center's dance and drama groups and potatoe pancakes prepared by the Tweens and Their Moms.

On December 9 the members of the Center's Senior Adults gathered in the home of member Mrs. Sylvia Solomon for a Hanukah Party that was complete with refreshments, entertainment, a gift exchange and singing and dancing.

Special guest was the Rabbi Herbert Morris of Temple Judea.

Still more parties ahead for the Senior Adults, according to Judith Sacks who reports that a welcome to the New Year is being planned for December 30.

☆ ☆ ☆

THE GOLDEN GATE Kindergarten Association Auxiliary will hold its last meeting of 1966 today at the Hotel Canterbury in San Francisco.

Daly City's Mrs. Richard Rossi and Mrs. Murray Freedman will be among the localites who attend the special Christmas luncheon honoring auxiliary president Mrs. Owen Kellogg.

☆ ☆ ☆

THE SAN FRANCISCO Alumnae Chapter of Alpha Iota Honorary Business Sorority met last evening for the annual Christmas meeting and gift exchange with secret sisters, according to Mrs. Marie Clinton, corresponding secretary.

The unit also took the occasion to allow the members to make individual contributions to the holiday philanthropic fund earmarked for the Association for Mental Health this year.

PLANNING THEIR wardrobes for the annual Fifty Plus New Year's outting are the ladies of the Pacifica's senior citizens club.

Club members will be leaving Pacifica at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, December 31 for Pacheco Pass and a "look-see" at the new San Luis Dam and lake, then on to the Fruit Basket for luncheon and then to the Hacienda Hotel for New Year's festivities.

Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan notes that Mrs. Elizabeth Funderburg is the lady to contact if you plan to join the party goers. But, best hurry, the club is holding only 40 reservations

MEMBERS OF THE Daly City community chorus will be singing a double header tomorrow evening, according to Publicity Chairman Mrs. Ann Peters.

The chorus will begin the evening by serenading the members of the Our Lady of Perpetual Help Women's Guild and then they will proceed to the War Memorial Building where they will sing for the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Easy Recipes Make for a Relaxed Hostsss as Well as Festive Holiday Fare

Festive fare and a relaxed hostess just seem to happen at holiday time — or any time — when recipes like those below are on the menu. Each uses convenience foods — each is delicious proof that special fare needn't require special fuss.

Seafood Sauce with Flaky Ring would be a splendid "bite of supper" for an open house buffet. Refrigerated Flaky Baking Powder Biscuits make the cheese and parsley flavored ring. Let guests help themselves to the biscuits and top them with a creamy seafood sauce — its gourmet taste belies its quick preparation.

More treats for a holiday open house are Party Pastries, fruit-flavored bites made with Refrigerated Turnover Pastries. A little water and some maraschino cherries are the only other ingredients needed.

Bake Apricot Nut Bread Mix in small star folds for individual Christmas brunch treats. Clusters of these stars make neighbourly gifts — wrap each bread, completely cooled, in plastic wrap and fasten a bow or holly sprig on the package.

For the Christmas cookie jar —or package or plate—Chocolate Peppermint Bars are a scrumptious addition. A quick one, too, because the candy-topped bars are made with Refrigerated Slice 'n' Bake Cookies.

And a happy "after" thought to keep in mind for leftover turkey is the recipe for Turkey Crescents with Cranberry Sauce, a bright new way to use the festive bird, thanks to Refrigerated Quick Crescent Dinner Rolls.

Pillsbury recipes:

SEAFOOD SAUCE WITH FLAKY RING

2 cans Refrigerated Flaky Baking Powder Biscuits
1-3 cup butter, melted
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons minced parsley
Oven: 375 degrees.
Yield: 1 ring.

Separate biscuits; dip each in butter, then in cheese. Stand on edge around sides of greased 9-inch round pan. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes until golden brown. Sprinkle with parsley. Serve warm with Newburg Sauce.

GOURMET NEWBURG SAUCE

2 (5½-ounce cans) lobster, drained and flaked
2 (4½-ounce cans) shrimp, drained
2 (10½-ounce cans) condensed cream of mushroom soup
2 cups milk
½ cup chopped green pepper
½ cup sliced almonds
¼ cup chopped pimento
2 teaspoons sherry extract, if desired
12 servings.

Combine all ingredients. Cook over medium heat until mixture is thoroughly heated. Serve in bowl beside biscuit ring.

PARTY PASTRIES

1 package Refrigerated Turnover Pastries
2 tablespoons water
Red and green maraschino cherries
Oven: 400 degrees.
Yield: 16 pastries.

Unroll and separate dough into 8 squares. Cut each square in fourths. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 400 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes or until golden brown. Loosen with spatula. Cool.

Spread about ½ tablespoon filling on a square. Top with second square. Spoon glaze over surface. Garnish with bits of red and green cherries.

Glaze: Combine icing and 2 tablespoons water. Heat to boiling.

APRICOT NUT STARS

1 package Apricot Nut Bread Mix
1 egg
¾ cup water
¼ cup orange juice
Oven 350 degrees.
Makes 10.

Prepare Apricot Nut Bread Mix as directed on package using egg, water and orange juice for the liquid. Turn into 10 individual serving size star-shaped molds, greased and floured on bottoms only. Fill molds half full. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Cool 10 minutes before removing from molds.

TURKEY CRESCENTS WITH CRANBERRY SAUCE

1 can Refrigerated Quick Crescent Dinner Rolls
8 thin slices turkey
1 7-ounce can whole cranberry sauce
Oven: 375 degrees.
4 servings.

Unroll crescent dough and separate into 8 triangles. Fold turkey slice in half; place on each triangle. Roll up as directed on label. Bake at 375 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes or until golden brown. Heat cranberry sauce and serve on turkey crescents.

Healthy adults whoeat well-balanced meals need no supplementary vitamins, unless advised by their physician.

Diced Leftover Ham Sweetbreads Mingle

Is there a holiday or post-holiday luncheon on your schedule? If so, plan a delectable creamed ham and sweetbread entree served in a baked cottage cheese ring.

Delicious bits of ham combine with a highly rated favorite variety meat called sweetbreads to go in the ring. Of course, other ingredients usually found in "a la king" dishes go with the creamed meats. They're mushrooms, green pepper and pimiento.

Sweetbreads are fragile as well as highly perishable, cautions a meat expert. Plan to serve them on the same day as purchased, or at least, if they're bought the day before, cook them in the water-vinegar mixture to make them firm. Leftover ham may also be diced the day before just to have the day of the luncheon move easily in preparing the food.

No leftover ham? That's no problem if you stock canned luncheon meat on your shelves. One 12-ounce can of this will serve as a replacement for the ham. The meat is cut into one-half inch cubes. Note that on one-fourth of a teaspoon of salt is required in either case since curing or processing leaves some salt in either ham or luncheon meat.

Start the luncheon with a cup of beef bouillon with a lemon slice. Serve the entree with buttered broccoli, a molded fruit salad and finger rolls. Dessert for those who want it could be an assortment of thinly sliced fruit cake and decorated cookies.

CREAMED HAM AND SWEETBREADS

1 pound sweetbreads
½ pound cooked ham, diced or 1 can (12 ounces) luncheon meat, cut into ½-inch cubes
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 quart water
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 can (4 ounces) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
¼ teaspon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

Simmer sweetbreads 20 to 25 minutes in water to which 1 teaspoon salt and vinegar have been added. Drain and plunge into cold water. Remove any membrane. Break into small pieces. Brown ham or luncheon meat, green pepper and mushrooms lightly in butter or margarine. Stir in flour. Add milk, sweetbreads, salt and pepper. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add pimiento, mixing lightly. Serve in Cottage Cheese Ring. 6 to 8 servings.

COTTAGE CHEESE RING

6 ounces medium noodles
1 pint dry cottage cheese
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 egg
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Grease a 1¼-quart ring mold. Cook noodles according to directions on package and drain well. Combine noodles, cottage cheese, sour cream, egg, salt and pepper and mix well. Pour into ring mold. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) 30 minutes. 6 to 8 servings.

A Devilish Recipe For Tasty Carrots

With all the convenience foods on the market today, it only takes minutes to turn an ordinary meal into a gourmet delight. Meats and desserts long have been in the spotlight as the elegant parts of a meal. Now you can turn the "lowly" vegetable into something fabulous.

Here is a recipe for Devilish Carrots, created by home economists. This delectable dish will only take minutes to make as the carrots are already prepared for you.

DEVILISH CARROTS
(Makes 4-6 servings)

1 jar carrots, sliced
½ cup butter
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 teaspoons dry mustard
Pinch of ground cloves
Dash hot pepper sauce
½ teaspoon salt
Black pepper

Place carrots in 1-quart buttered casserole. Mix rest of ingredients together and dot over top of carrots. Bake at 325 degrees for 20 minutes or until mixture is hot and bubbly.

Here's another vegetable dish that makes good use of leftovers. Tender young peas are sauteed with ham and seasonings. This makes a great dish to set before guests.

GOURMET PEAS
(Serves 6)

¼ cup minced onion
¼ cup butter
1 cup diced, cooked ham
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ teaspoon basil flakes
1 teaspoon salt
Black pepper
3 cups peas, cooked

Saute onions in butter until tender. Add ham and seasonings and saute for 5 minutes. Stir in peas and heat through.

This is the new South San Francisco Library, now open on West Orange, although foral dedication ceremonies are not planned until January.

South San Francisco's New Library Now Open

South San Francisco's new $700,000 library on West Orange Avenue has opened its doors to the public though the facility will not be dedicated formally until late January.

The new library, with the latest accoustical design and wall-to-wall carpeting, contains approximately 40,000 volumes in addition to films and phonograph records.

Heading the staff is the city's new library administrator, Dr. Robert Alvarez, a library administration consultant and former director of the city libraries in Nashville, Tenn.

Dr. Alvarez is assisted by a staff of 17 persons in the new library.

"With the completion of this facility, South San Francisco became the only city I know of which has two main libraries," Dr. Alvarez said.

Two special exhibits are on display in the new library.

About 50 paintings provided by the Peninsula Art Association were loaned to the library last week , and cases of rare last week, and cases of rare books from the Frank V. Debellis collection are on exhibit.

The books and paintings will remain in the library until the end of January, Dr. Alvarez said.

With the opening of the new facility, both the city's libraries adopted new hours. They are now open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mon-day through Friday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, and 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Pacifica Couple Captives

While a masked gunman held the manager of the Sea Bowl Lanes and his wife captive in their Pacifica home last week, his two armed companions cleaned out the safe of $1,000 at the bowling alley some distance from the couple's home.

County-wide roadblocks set up within 30 minutes after the robbery was reported, failed to net the armed trio.

Enter Home

Police said two masked men, one armed with a shotgun, the other with an automatic pistol, forced their way into the home of Jack and Yvette Watenberg, 1137 Manzanita Avenue, Linda Mar, around 10 o'clock.

The pair found Watenberg alone and bound and gagged him while they ransacked the house in an apparent search for valuables.

They were still looking through the home when Mrs. Watenberg returned from her job as night manager at the Seabowl shortly before midnight.

The gunmen threatened to harm the couple unless the combination to the bowling alley's office safe was disclosed.

Mrs. Watenberg said she finally gave them the combination in fear of her life.

About three hours after the two men entered the home, another masked gunman came in and was told by his confederates to "cover them" while the Sea Bowl was being robbed.

The Watenbergs told police the third gunman remained inside the house until 4 a.m., when he received a phone call and hurriedly left.

Watenberg was able to free himself and notify Pacifica police of his own robbery and the possibility that the Sea Bowl would also be held up by the men.

Officers Raymond Karczewski and Tony Guardino sped to the Sea Bowl and found three employes locked inside the ladies' restroom and the safe open.

The three employes — Rolando Curletto, 33, a night clerk; Gene Hodges, 52, a custodian, and Jose Minquela, 35, also a custodian — said the pair came in the bowling alley's rear door around 3 a.m., while they were cleaning up.

Curletto was working in the office when the gunmen entered and was herded with the two custodians into the restroom.

The gunmen then went into the office and cleaned out the safe, fleeing with an estimated $1,000.

Police said the pair stayed in the building for "at least a half hour," periodically checking the restroom to insure the employes were still secured.

Descriptions of the gunmen broadcast almost immediately after the robberies warned the trio was heavily armed.

The gunman carrying the shotgun was wearing a black "poncho" raincoat and black mask with slits cut in it for his eyes, police said.

Police said the other two gunmen also wore similar face masks, but were uncertain whether one or two cars were used by the men.

Watenberg said the gunmen also took some $200 from the couple during their search of the home.

Library Growth Reported in S.S.F.

There is an average of 5,000 identification cards issued to new patrons of the South San Francisco Free Public Library a year, reported Administrator Robert Alvarez.

The number of local residents with library cards at present totls 24,218. Among the library card holders the greatest readers are in the children's and teen's department. These departments average 40-45 per cent of the total library book circulation, Dr. Alvarez disclosed.

Women readers predominate and check out considerable light fiction, according to library reports. The current favorite authors include Ian Fleming, Ernest Hemingway, Eugene Burdick, James Michener and Jacqueline Susann.

Favorite non-fiction books are "How to Avoid Probate," by Norman Dacy; "In Cold Blood," by Truman Capote and "Games People Play," by Eric Berne. Mysteries are popular.

Although the adult fiction circulation tops non-fiction, the latter has risen steadily in circulation in recent years. At present the difference between adult fiction and non-fiction is very slight.

Books covering such subjects as sports, "how to," war stories, and books on flying saucers, as well as those dealing with various types of recreation, are in great demand.

A varied number of questions, from atoms to zebras, are handled daily by the reference librarian. For example, a recent query concerned the number of fishing licenses issued in the United States. Also, opera plots are currently researched at the South San Francisco Public Library.

Nurse Gets 18 Months In Welfare Case

Mrs. Amanda King, 41-year-old nurse of 603 Moana Way, Pacifica, has been sentenced to 18 months probation on her plea of guilt to a charge of welfare fraud.

The district attorney's office charged that she failed to report her earnings to the welfare department, with the result that she got $1,034 more than was due her.

Municipal Judge Charles Becker suspended a six-month county jail sentence.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham of 915 Myrtle Street, East Palo Alto, are schedule to be arraigned in Superior Court December 20 on felony charges that they failed to report that Graham was receiving unemployment benefits.

It was alleged that they were overpaid $1,386.

$500 Blaze In Daly City

Grease on Mrs. Gildie's kitchen stove in Daly City became overheated and started a fire that caused an estimated $500 damage.

A Daly City fire department spokesman said the hood, canisters and studding near the flue pipe were damaged and there was smoke damage to the kitchen and adjoining rooms as well in the home at 89 Ridgefield Avenue.

Nine Injured In Two Accidents

Nine persons were hurt in two, 2-car crashes over the weekend. Several were admitted to the hospital. Both accidents occured on El Camino Real, one block apart.

An early evening two-car crash on El Camino Real, at Arroyo Drive, in South San Francisco, Saturday injured four persons.

South San Fracisco police said cars driven by Hellen Barnett of Half Moon Bay, and Ella Belnap of Union City collided, injuring the operators and one passenger in each car.

Police said the accident occurred at 6:28 p.m., apparently as the Barnett vehicle was making a left turn off of El Camino.

Besides the drivers, taken to Peninsula Hospital were Christine Wofford, 6, of Half Moon Bay, a passenger in the Barnett auto, and Lorraine Baumann, 23 of San Mateo.

Mrs. Barnett was admitted for treatment of multiple contusions, and discharged Sunday. Mrs. Belnap received multiple contusions and possible internal injuries, was listed as in "satisfactory" condition.

The Woford girl was admitted for treatment for contusions, cuts and bruises.

Lorraine Baumann was treated for facial lacerations and discharged.

Five persons were injured in a two-car collision just after midnight Saturday when vehicles driven by Lawrence Kennady, 28, and Jon Lewis Goodin, 16, colided at the intersection of El Camino Real and Alta Loma Drive, in South San Francisco.

The mishap occurred, according to police reports, as Kennady made a left turn off of El Camino.

All of the injured were taken to Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City.

They included the two drivers, neither of whom was admitted following treatment for minor injuries; Gale Schmidt, 16, admitted with fractured ribs and multiple head and facial lacerations; Nancy Snitzler, 13, admitted with possible internal injuries, and bruises; and Luke Linich, admitted with multiple contusions and lacerations of the forehead.

School Plans Yule Concerts

Three Christmas concerts will be presented at Daly City's Colma Intermediate School next week.

The seventh and eighth grade chorus and band, conducted by Miss Linda Lewis, and the string ensemble, conducted by Richard Snyder, will present identical programs December 15, at 11:20 a.m. and 1:37 p.m., for the Colma student body and parents.

Soloists will be Leslie Rouv, Cathleen Dunn, Christina Camillo, Roland Huertas, Neville Wall and Jerry Shimada.

Bank Books Are Stolen

A television, two radios, four bank books and $100 in cash were stolen from a San Bruno residence sometime Friday evening, police reported.

Officers said someone broke into the home of Joseph R. Lapham, 3029 Acacia Avenue, San Bruno, between 3:30 and 10:15 p.m.

Entrance to the house was gaained through sliting a screen and opening an unlocked window.

Schedule Meet

The next regular meeting of C.I.T.Y. will be held on January 19, next year, Edward Eastman, publicity chairman for the organization announced today.

Ben Franklin Merchants Buffet a Huge Success

CREDIT MR. ERWIN BEST of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel and his executive chef, Robert Boyle, with the excellent restaurant idea of serving a delicious Merchant's Buffet Luncheon in the hotel's beautiful Seville Room Monday through Friday, 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Chef Boyle, a master when it comes to preparing tasty dishes, offers a variety of salads, relishes and a selection of hot entrees that are palate inviting. Here's a special you can't overlook: London Broil of Beef is the Monday, Wednesday and Friday feature. Cocktails served during the luncheon hours are priced at just 50 cents. This is not a "For Men Only" buffet. Come one, come all. Once you've tried it, you'll be a luncheon "regular".

WOODY ALLEN, comedy star, said hello to Ted Huber, manager of Phil Lehr's Steakery and elegant Wellington Room, while in town with his latest movie, "What's Up Tiger Lily?" . . . Part of the warmth and hospitality at Martinelli's 'appy Night restaurant in Hillsdale is due to genial "Little Johnny" Ruiz, the maitre d'. Whether it's an intimate dinner for two or a large family holiday gathering, the occasion glows because of the personal attention which the personable greeter always gives. . . . One of the most popular dining spots on the Peninsula, view-wise, food-wise, and service-wise, is San Mateo's elegant Castaway restaurant at Coyote Point, whose success is due largely to the efforts of Gen. Mgr. George Tribelhorn. . . . San Francisco's North Beach has Topless mothers of six children, but only the Brass Rail in Sunnyvale has Roxanne, the boy who became a girl and Topless star, who appears nightly along with buxom Tara, the Topless Snake Dancer. . . . You've missed something if you haven't tried Fabbro's Chicken Cacciatorre, the specialty of this Redwood City restaurant.

ONE OF AMERICA'S LEADING STAGE ACTORS, Jerome Cowan, helped enliven the action at Finocchio's show when he ringsided at the North Beach club, while appearing in the play "Generation" at the Curran Theater. Introduced by Lucian, the male Sophie Tucker, Cowan got a big hand and helped the fun by exchanging quips with the male Sophie Tucker. Other famous personalities who have ringsided recently at Finocchio's include Ann Corio, who was here with the touring "Burlesque" revue; and Andy Prine of TV fame. . . . To greet the beginning of another annum, Peninsula residents and tourists, alike, are assured the finest in entertainment whenever visiting Don Zirilli's Embers night spot in Redwood City, which is currently headlining the fabulous Younger Bros. Girls, don't forget the dance contest every Tuesday night. The winner receives $25 and a chance at the big $1,000 jackpot seven weeks from now.

Lew Lehr, at his Marina steak house, describes a nudist camp as a place where nothing goes on.

Pinata Season For Sinaloa's Patrons

It's almost Pinata season at Sinaloa, the San Francisco restaurant-cantina. Beginning December 16, every evening during the show, a patron is blindfolded and given a stick to swing at an animal stuffed with goodies. When it bursts, gifts, candy, money, trinkets, and champagne certificates fall to the floor to be gathered by scrambling customers. It's a century-old Mexican custom that delights everyone.

☆

"Food to take out" is another big feature at the "La Touraine, an outstanding French restaurant in Burlingame. This service is something new and unique, and offers an opportunity for many to enjoy the superb food of co-owner-Chef Maurice Brossier in the privacy of their own homes. Selections may be made from any course on the menu.

Villa Chartier Gift Certificate For Christmas

Norris Palmer, wide-awake general manager of the Villa Chartier and Lanai restaurants, phoned in a Christmas message, as well as a New Year fun idea.

"Be sure to suggest our ideal Christmas gift to your Bright Light readers — Villa Chartier Gift Certificates, which entitle you to dine at the Villa Chartier or Lanai.

"Also," continued Mr. Palmer, "we will have our traditional New Year's Eve party at the two restaurants, complete with hats, horns and all the party favor trimmings. Dining room service right up to the midnight hour.'

BirthdayGreetings To Ann Smith

Special happy birthday, last Tuesday, to Ann Smith, hostess at Theresa and Mary Lou's Redwood City Scotty Campbell's. Attractive Ann received three birthday cakes. The sparkling earrings and necklace she was wearing that December 6, were gifts from her teen-agers.

Flash: Theresa and Bud will be back on the Peninsula next weekend. As of this writing, they should be in Las Vegas enroute.

Reservation tickets are going fast for the Blue Peacock's annual New Year's Eve party. Prime rib dinner and all the drinks you can handle are the main attractions of the evening, which also features live music and dancing.

Kim is 9 years old, attends the Highlands Grammar school and is in the 4th grade. She has two brothers ages 5 and 11, and two sisters, 18 months and 7. Tennis, swimming and baseball are her favorite hobbies. She plays the piano, belongs to the Good News Club, and was class president for the month of October.

Kim has written: "My best Christmas was the 8th year. The 8th year was fun because we had Christmas in the morning and we put on the Christmas recordings. We could hardly wait for Christmas Eve that year. We sat in the living room—decorated the tree with ornaments. Everybody was too, too excited! Finally it came! Christmas! I woke up at 7. WAS IT EARLY! 'Imagine, today is really Christmas', I said".
